A BAD WRECK
The constitution may follow in the track of a disordered system, due to impure blood or inactive liver. Don't run the risk! The proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery take all the chances. They make a straightforward offer to return your money if their remedy fails to benefit or cure indigestion and affections due to impure blood or inactive liver. The germs of disease circulate through the blood; the liver is the filter which permits the germs to enter or not. The liver active, and the blood pure, no disease escapes disease.

When you're run down, debilitated, weak, and your weight below a healthy standard, you regain health, strength, and wholesome food by using the "Discovery." It builds up the body faster than nauseating Cod liver oil or emulsions.

There would be any cases of Chronic Catarrh if everyone used Dr. Sage's Remedy. It cures $500 reward for an incurable case.

Bishop's Letter to the Children.

Bishop Whittle has addressed the following letter to the Sunday school scholars and other children of the Diocese of Virginia:

"Not long ago, when Christmas was coming, I am sure you all, my dear children, expected with pleasure a visit from Santa Claus, without anything being said to you about him. But now, when the season of Lent will soon be here, I wonder how many of you are looking for a letter from me and will be glad to receive it when it comes; Now I can't hope to interest you with a letter, like Santa Claus with a visit, because he came to bring you presents, which it is so pleasant to receive; while I want to get you to give to others, which is much harder to do; and yet you know the words of the Lord Jesus how he said: 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' May the blessing which comes to cheerful, self-denying, large gifts be yours.

You know what I am going to write to you about and don't wish me to be too long, and so I remind you that for several years past, by saving and making what money you could during Lent, you have given the greatest help to our Missionary Society in its work. For what you have so nobly done in the past, I thank you, as do all the ministers and people of our church, and I hope, dear children, that this year you will not be weary in well-doing but go bravely to work and raise more money to send to the treasurer at Easter than ever before. I think it well to explain to you again what this Missionary Society is and what it does. About twenty of our ministers are in the country where the people live on farms and are so few in number, and so far apart and have so little money that some of these ministers preach in as many as four different churches, and even then the people are not able to support them. Besides, there is our evangelist or general missionary, who goes round and round to a number of churches that have no ministers at all. Now what ought to be done for these ministers and people and churches? Shall we let all these ministers give up their work and between fifty and sixty of our churches be shut up and the congregations be left without any services? I am sure you will all say no; but call on the strong to support the weak, and on those who have money to divide with those who have none. Well, this is what this Missionary Society is for. Its work is to raise money to help the people in the poor parts of the Diocese to support the evangelist and these other ministers and to keep open these churches. I shall wait with a great deal of interest to see with how large a sum of money you are going to answer my letter, and praying God's best blessings for each of you, I remain, my dear children, your loving friend and Bishop.

A CRUSADE AGAINST LIZARDS.—See eary Davis, of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has begun an amicable crusade against the trade in the little Florida lizards which are sold as chameleons with small gold chains about their necks and worn by the ultra-fashionables on bodice or necktie. The fad has not grown to any proportion in this city and Secretary Davis decided to try the force of a personal appeal to the few dealers handling the delicate animals. With that object he wrote letters to the heads of the larger business houses selling them, calling attention to the cruelty of the practice and appealing to their feelings to stop the sale.

Granville H. Haines, 9th and Market streets, and Wm. H. Hoskins, No. 815 Chestnut street, promptly answered, stating that they would do no more of the lizards. Other houses, while they have not as yet notified Secretary Davis, have, it is understood, stopped selling them. A special agent of the society was also sent around to some of the smaller dealers to make a personal appeal. It is believed that the sales can be practically stopped by this method, but the society, at its meeting on Wednesday, will decide whether to resort to legal measures if others fail.

At the main depot for the lizards, on Calhoun street above Tenth, it was said yesterday that they intended to continue the business, basing their legal right, on a Boston decision, which held that some specific act of cruelty must be charged. They have decided on one change, however. Instead of having the little creatures chained while on exhibition, as heretofore, they will be placed in a covered case and allowed to roam at will.—Philadelphia Record.
